Principal's Report

From the first moment I stepped onto the school grounds at last year's concert, I felt the strong sense of collective pride and collaboration that is such an important part of this school community. It is easily apparent in the classrooms, in the playground and on excursions. Our kids like each other, but more importantly—they respect and support each other.

Yesterday, cooperation was really put to the test with the construction of two soccer goals from three bags of assorted parts! This student-led STEM activity involved creative thinking, logical processing, serious negotiation and a whole lot of grit. To top it off, we battled rising temperatures and were thrice (but joyously) interrupted by visiting swarms of Mansfield Primary Year Ones and Fives.

A day-long task, building the soccer goals was finally completed with half an hour until the end of the school week. The ensuing game was well deserved and very exciting! Despite heat, exhaustion and one or two frayed nerves, the Jamo kids showed once again that they are a team who look out for each other and won't have fun without each other.

SWIMMING CARNIVAL

(& SWIMMING SPORTS)

On Friday the 5th of March, we had a sports day! But not any kind of sports, swimming sports, but a special swimming sports, the swimming carnival!

On Friday we had loads of people, we had the Jamo kids and all of the Merrijig kids! (there's lo-ots of Merrijigglers (that's their nickname)

We got ribbons, lots of photos and we all had lots of fun! Oh, and we got wet ;-)

Goodbye Sue!

After five years being an integral part of the Jamieson Primary School community and being involved in the growth and development of so many wonderful children, Sue has made the decision to move on.

Sue's kindness and generosity have been a consistent asset to the school. Her unwavering calm, ready smile and no-nonsense manner have helped us all to feel encouraged and supported.

Visit often, Sue, for you will be missed. We wish you and Phil all the very best.

THE J.P.S JOURNAL

J.P.S Sports

Every second week we are having swimming sports. We have groups of students of their class, also we have different swimming teachers every time but not always for the Junior class. Last week we had the swimming carnival but of course, now that it is autumn, swimming is over and now the J.P.S kids have no subject. E.g. skiing, excursions and swimming.

On Fridays, we have tennis, that's why on Fridays kids bring their drink-bottles and their own tennis racquet, unless they don't have one. If it's raining, we won't play tennis or if it's just cold, then they'll bring jumpers and they're good to go!

On every morning except for Thursdays which are assembly day we have fitness which usually warms you up for the rest of the day. But not always for the rest of the day.

Ivy

We play golden child.

Hinamatsuri (day of the girl)

On Hinamatsuri we made origami people, one was a girl (of course) and one was a boy. They were really fun but really hard to make. And we learned the colours in Japanese.

The term has picked up pace and we are fully into the swing of things now—did you spot the idioms? In the Big Kids' Class, we have been honing our inferential skills by learning about different language features. If you're in need of a refresher, come and see the idiom posters we have been creating!
