The senior students have been learning about similes and metaphors and have created some fantastic poems to showcase their creativity.

MY DOG BOB – by Beau

My dog Bob is like a boiling tea pot if you kick him out of bed.
He is a bearded lizard with the hairs on his chin.
His like a twitcher when the birds are on the porch.
He is a grumpy old man when you take his food away.
His so excitable like a kid in a lolly shop.
He is as small as an ant next to my big old red healer.
My mate Bob and I love him.

MEERKATS – by Foster

Meerkats are fluffy little furballs that are grey and brown.
 Meercats can repel poison like an umbrella in a rainstorm.
 Meercats are like silver ants when they run.
 Meerkats are like monkeys when they squeak.
 The live in deserts and savanna.

MONKEYS – By Jackson

Monkeys are a wood-splitter when trying to open the nits they love to eat.
 They're an F1 car built for the tree canopy.
 They are a chainsaw on full throttle when sleeping.
 They look like an acrobat when swinging from branch to branch.
 I like them because they are cheeky.

MY FAVOURITE SNAKE (the Blue Pit Viper) – By Micah

The blue pit viper is a slingshot when threatened.
 Blue pit vipers are a silent forest when they are happy.
 The blue pit viper is like a T-Rex when hungry.
 The blue pit vipers are a shark P when hunting.
 They are like a chameleon hiding in their habitats.
 Their venom is like the black plague.

BLACK PANTHERS – by Parker

It has the fur of the shadow's darkness.
 Their teeth are like little daggers.
 They're the king of the rainforest.
 Their quick and accurate hunters like royal archers.
 A black panther lives in the darkness like batman.
 A panther is an overlooker like an eagle ready to swoop.
 A black panther is as fast as a McLaren W1.
 Panthers have claws of devils.

MY DOG, MINI – by Mason

When she's happy she is a mulcher.
 She's as cute as an otter when sleeping.
 And she is a brick when sleeping.
 Her fur is like a fluffy blanket when coming out from the shower.
 When she eats, she is a blue whale eating during eating time
 When she bites, she is a hippo chomping on its prey.
 This is my dog Mini!
